

A special event you don't want to miss!

The Door Opens: Making Money on Beijing's Finance Street

Join us at The Waldorf-Astoria
at 301 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10022 on Wednesday, December 3rd, 2003 from 10:30 AM to 3:00 PM

Presented by: Asia Pacific - U.S.A. Chamber of Commerce

$45 Per Person (Lunch Included)

With China's accession to the World Trade Organization (WTO) and Beijing's hosting of the 2008 Olympics, Beijing's Finance Street project is attracting tremendous global interest. Finance Street is fast developing into an international financial center like Wall Street in New York or The City in London.

You are invited to a unique opportunity to hear how to get on the ground floor of a rapidly developing international financial sector and can meet with decision makers associated with this 103 hectare area destined to become one of China's most important financial and investment centers.

Event Speakers:

Commissioner Hou of Beijing Finance Working Commission, will present a cutting-edge analysis on how the relaxation of restrictions in financial services in 2004 will affect doing business in China.

Chairman Wang of Beijing Finance Street Holding Co. Ltd. will update participants on the latest developments regarding this area.

Mr. David Hale, a noted economist and founding Chairman of ChinaOnline will share his insights into China's monetary and trade policies and whether it should revalue its currency.

Event Highlights:

- Implications for banking and international business on the relaxation of restrictions on foreign banking rules
- Latest updates and details of interest to planners, architects, civil engineers, and property management firms on 35 request for proposals totaling 3.3 billion USD
- Why the Xicheng district in Beijing is a prime location for foreign banks and U.S. retail establishments who wish to expand or establish operations in China
- Investment opportunities for banks, insurance companies and brokerages
