

News

July 12, 2007

2007 Transatlantic Business Awards Announced US & UK Ambassadors to Present Honors at Gala Dinner in New York City

On November 1, 2007, BritishAmerican Business will be joined by both The Honorable Robert Tuttle, US Ambassador to the United Kingdom and Sir Nigel Sheinwald, HM Ambassador-designate to the United States, to present the thirteenth annual Transatlantic Business Awards for outstanding leadership in advancement of the transatlantic business partnership.

Each year BritishAmerican Business honors a leading American and British CEO at a black-tie dinner that has become the premier gala event of the transatlantic business calendar, attracting more than 500 senior executives from both sides of the Atlantic. This year, BritishAmerican Business will also present two additional awards for entrepreneurial achievement and a special leadership award.

“As usual, our A-list of honorees reflects the ever growing stature of BritishAmerican Business as the pre-eminent transatlantic business organization,” said Graham A.D. Broyd, Vice Chairman North American Services, RBS Greenwich Capital and Chairman of BritishAmerican Business.

Transatlantic Business Award

*Kenneth D. Lewis, Chairman & Chief Executive Officer, Bank of America
Paul Walsh, Chief Executive, Diageo*

Special Leadership Award

John A. Thain, Chief Executive Officer, NYSE Euronext

Entrepreneurial Award

J.W. Marriott, Jr., Chairman & Chief Executive Officer, Marriott International, Inc.

Richard Fursland OBE, Chief Executive of BritishAmerican Business added, “Our honorees are all outstanding leaders in the global business community, and we look forward to welcoming Ambassadors Tuttle and Sheinwald to present our 2007 Transatlantic Business Awards on behalf of our member companies.”

BritishAmerican Business is the leading transatlantic business organization, dedicated to helping its 700 member companies build their international business. The Transatlantic Business Awards Dinner is a fixture of our annual events program, including 120 events throughout the year that provide a platform for members and their guests in New York and London to gain business intelligence and develop their business network.

For more information about the Transatlantic Business Awards Dinner and to reserve space for your company to participate,
please contact Wendy Mendenhall, Director of Event Marketing & Corporate Sponsorships
212 697 7819 or wmendenhall@babinc.org.

Members of the British American Business Council and the European Council of American Chambers of Commerce